

Dear valued customer and business partner, due to the current ongoing global pandemic and the resulting massive challenges in logistics, we would like to inform you that all our employees are working every day with passion and great commitment to support your company in the best possible way.

In doing so, you as our valuable customer, are always in focus and we do everything, to find the most ideal and feasible solution or alternative for your logistics requirements.

The current challenges around logistics, are very diverse and sometimes difficult to assess and predict.

Empty equipment shortage, capacity bottlenecks, port congestion etc. and last but not least the Suez Canal incident, lead to the need to work out optimal alternatives and offer them accordingly.

We assume, that there will be no recovery of the situation in the short to medium term, but that the situation will remain very tense in the coming months, as there have been many blank / void sailings and the already tense space situation, is even more dramatic.

In this respect, please do not hesitate to contact our staff at any time with regard to your special needs and questions - you will find the relevant contact details here:
